

🎵 "No One Says a Word"
by itzhexen

(Verse 1)

The room was full, but no one looked,
I sat alone, though not unseen.
A shadow passed, the silence took
Whatever might have been.

(Pre-Chorus)

No hands reached out, no voices called,
But no one pushed me down.
The wind just moved, the sky just turned,
And I just watched it drown.

(Chorus)

No one said a word,
No one broke the spell.
I could've stayed or gone,
And maybe they could tell.
But nothing felt like reason,
And nothing felt absurd.
Just stillness in the breathing –
No one said a word.

(Verse 2)

I thought about the exit sign,
But didn't touch the door.
It's strange how easy fading feels
When no one's keeping score.

(Pre-Chorus)

They smiled like it was weather,
Just passing in the day.
I might have stayed forever,
But nothing asked me to stay.

(Chorus)

No one said a word,
No light, no flame, no burn.
Just quiet eyes that didn't ask
If I would still return.
Not cruel, not kind, not watching,
Not anything I heard –
Just drifting into silence,
And no one said a word.

(Bridge)

Maybe that's the way it is –
No sound beneath the snow.

Not every wound is open,
Not every "no" says no.

(Final Chorus)

No one said a word,
And that's what echoed loud.
A space too wide for shouting,
A face lost in the crowd.
I walked into the stillness,
No signal and no herd.
Just time that kept on ticking,
And no one said a word.
